1. Purpose

This Acceptable Use Policy defines prohibited or abusive uses of Nodrive, the website, accounts and related technical infrastructure and supplements the Terms and Conditions.

2. Beta Scope

In the Beta, Nodrive does not host file content as a Hosted service. Files are stored locally or with a provider selected by the user. This policy nevertheless applies to use of the app, Nodrive account, backend, APIs, website and support channels.

3. Prohibited Uses

- Use Nodrive for unlawful activities or to knowingly infringe third-party rights.
- Attempt unauthorised access, scanning, vulnerability testing, abusive scraping, denial-of-service or other activities intended to compromise Nodrive without written authorisation.
- Bypass security controls, technical limits, quotas or authentication mechanisms.
- Use accounts, tokens or credentials belonging to another person without authorisation.
- Distribute through Fiscalbox services malware, exploits or content intended to compromise third-party systems.
- Abuse support channels, send unlawful material or attempt to obtain confidential information through social engineering.
- Resell or commercially provide access to the Service without an agreement with Fiscalbox.

4. Responsibility for Storage and Content

Users remain responsible for data stored on their own device or with the provider they select and must also comply with that provider's terms and policies. Fiscalbox does not ordinarily control encrypted content stored in user-controlled storage.

5. Measures

Fiscalbox S.r.l. may take proportionate measures, including limitation, suspension or termination of access to accounts or technical services, where necessary for security, legal obligations or violations of this policy. Where possible, users will be informed of the reasons and any available challenge process.

6. Reports

Abuse or security reports and legal requests can be sent to info@nodrive.cloud or, for formal communications, to fiscalbox@pec.it.

7. Updates

Fiscalbox may update this policy as features, technical risks or applicable law change. Material changes will be versioned and communicated through appropriate means.
